

Planning Is Everything

Want to create a convenient, cost effective, professional and personalised environment for your special day, then you should consider using a wedding planner. You may feel you are capable of organising your own wedding, but if you find the task daunting and don't quite know where to start then a wedding planner is the answer for you. Cairns is a popular wedding destination for Australians as well as those from abroad. Given its geographical location the benefit of using a local wedding planner becomes instantly obvious. They assist you with everything you need to know to successfully plan a wedding.

Here are a few reasons why you should consider a wedding planner:

- Save on time, money and stress.
- Give you one point of contact for any questions, ideas and advice.
- Give you the best options for your wedding day.
- Clear documentation and updates on the progress of your wedding.

Most importantly, a wedding planner will never lose sight of the fact it is your day and it is all about what you want. We are there for you, to help and create your dream day the easy way.

Hair & Makeup

You don't need to be overwhelmed with every decision you make. There are professionals who will guide you through tough decisions like hair and makeup, which are key elements to achieving your perfect day. When deciding on your hair and makeup, you and your stylist should discuss dress design, colours, flowers, location, jewellery and other important aspects to achieve your desired look. Whether it is a beach affair with a simple white summer dress, barefoot with tousled hair, sunkissed hair, or a fine church affair with your antique lace dress, refined up-swept hair, champagne roses and grandmother's pearls, it is important to get it right.

Coordinated Colours

Your wedding day is excitement, love, laughter and tears and a day that belongs to the bride and groom only. The bride looks so very special in her dream gown and is assisted by her bridesmaids in co-ordinated colours [often the bride's favourite colour] and styles. Bridesmaids, it is important to remember it is the bride's day, love the style and colour of her choice but offer advice if asked. It is also a special day for the mother of the bride and groom and they love to look their very best in colours and styles to complement not only themselves, but also the bridal party.

Footwear Fashions

When choosing shoes for the big day, whether in traditional colours like white, ivory or champagne or incorporating the colours of the rainbow, it is important to keep comfort in mind. After all, you will be on your feet from the first photograph on the day to when bride and groom say goodbye to their guests.

The majority of styles come in the six regular colours of white, ivory, champagne, gold, silver and black and some styles incorporate up to 10 different colours to cater for a bridal party. The materials used for bridal footwear include kid leather, man-made materials, silks, lace and satins. The styles encompass open toe, fine strappy lines, sling backs, mules, covered toes and even flatties for the beach or garden wedding. Heel heights and shapes vary to cater for all needs, from flatties to nine centimeters high, with some designs even offering different heel heights within the same style.

With styles encrusted with diamantes or embellished with ribbons and pearls, the variety of designs and colours are only limited by one's own imagination. For a wide range and accommodating staff, head to a boutique that will help you out – even outside of normal trading hours.
