

One Destination... Many Brides' Dream

Imagine an internationally awarded boutique resort with coral sea views, colonial ambience, a stunning restaurant or poolside private dining, large guest rooms and a surreal day spa experience for the morning after. For the bride and groom, beautifully appointed king-sized bedrooms flowing with linen netting lead out to expansive balconys overlooking bougainvillea draped pools and waterfalls amid lush tropical gardens. For the wedding guests, the award-winning Reef House restaurant overlooks the palm fringed coral sea across a large teak decking with 300-year-old Melaleuca gums towering overhead. Smaller groups may dine beside the azure blue waterfall pools amid lush tropical gardens. The menu highlights the region's finest produce and is designed by a nationally awarded chef who can create a personalised menu to suit your day. The sommelier will also suggest wines to perfectly match the menu. Brides need not worry as a dedicated Reef House wedding co-ordinator will streamline all the arrangements required to create a unique wedding event.

Wildlife Weddings

What could be more Australian than getting married in a zoo? The Wildlife Chapel at Cairns Tropical Zoo will ensure your wedding has that little extra something you and your guests will talk about for years to come. This delightful chapel offers a unique venue, surrounded by award winning tropical gardens. The chapel seats 50 guests in air-conditioned comfort and features a beautiful stained glass window. The opportunity to include a native Australian animal in the wedding photos also exists. As the zoo's primary focus is their animals, you get to choose your own celebrant, florist, photographer and the like, so everything can be just the way you want it on the special day.
